

Mabbott & Company Web Site Privacy Statement

Mabbott & Company has developed this site as an electronic resource respecting our firm.

We are committed to providing our visitors with a web site that respects their privacy. This page summarizes the privacy policy and practices on our firm's web site.

We do not gather personal information such as your name, phone number, or e-mail address unless you supply it voluntarily, usually through contacting us in person or via e-mail, fax, and regular mail. We do maintain server logs and web logs which automatically collect and log all incoming traffic to our web site including your Internet Protocol (IP) address.

Any personal information you do provide is protected Alberta's Personal Information Protection Act. This means that, at the point of collection, you will be informed that your personal information is being collected, the purpose for which it is being collected and that you have a right of access to the information.

We do not regularly use "cookies" to track how our visitors use the site. Whenever we enable "cookies" to facilitate your transactions, we will first inform you.

This web site contains links to other sites. We are not responsible for the content or the privacy practices of other web sites and encourage you to examine each site's privacy policy and make your own decisions regarding the accuracy, reliability and correctness of material and information found.

Mabbott & Company reserves the right to modify or supplement this Privacy Policy at any time. If we make a change to this Privacy Policy, we will post such changes on our website and make such revised policy and changes available upon request to the Mabbott & Company Privacy Officer. However, Mabbott & Company will obtain the necessary consents required under applicable privacy laws if it seeks to collect, use or disclose your Personal Information for purposes other than those to which consent has been obtained unless otherwise required or permitted by law.

Mabbott & Company has appointed Karmelle D. Johnston as the Privacy Officer to oversee compliance with the applicable privacy laws.
